

World Happenings In Pictures

★ ★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★ ★

TRAILER TOWN—Greatest concentration of trailer-tow in this province and their families have been "getting by" with makeshift collection near Peter Romanuk's garage and lunch bar at Viridian, facilities since last fall. —Courtesy of The Virgin Republic-Adrian

CHARRED POSTAL NOTE RECALLS TRAGEDY—This picture is proof of the nationwide scam which the Post Office Department takes to deliver Her Majesty's mail—even under the utmost difficulties. The postal note in the photo was for 45 cents worth of seeds at a mail order house. Mailed at Meadow Lake, Sask., by Mrs. Ed. Parker, the letter was put on the T.C.A. plane which crashed and burned at Moose Jaw on April 8. The return address of the sender on the envelope and the name of Meadow Lake Post Master E. A. Brown on the postal note were still visible on the charred remains, which were returned to Mrs. Parker with the remains of the Post Office Department. —Photo courtesy of North Saskatchewan News-Spectrum

TRAFFIC-STOPPER—Its design resembling the black-and-white warning stripes on trucks and road barricades, this sleeveless truck by Battilocchi is a real traffic-stopper in Rome, Italy. Bodice is sewn of alternate black-and-white stripes of material, and the funnel-pocket skirt is in red and green. —Photo courtesy of The Virgin Republic-Adrian

BRIDGE MACLEAN, who allegedly based on committing a perfect crime, is behind bars awaiting preliminary hearing on a charge of murdering his 20-year-old wife and August. Police have requested investigations into the slaying of Mrs. MacLean after MacLean was arrested on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses. Sylvia Factor, also 29 and an ex-girl friend of MacLean, testified that she had loaned him $1,000 to pay off a debt on his house after they became engaged. He refused to repay and threatened "the girl and the lot" after boasting that he had committed a "perfect crime." MacLean is shown in the photo above with his late wife and son Douglas. —Photo courtesy of The Virgin Republic-Adrian

THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WINDSOR smile as they hold their pet dog, Trumper, held by the Duchess, and Diana, in their stateroom aboard the Royal Queen Elizabeth before sailing for France. —Photo courtesy of The Virgin Republic-Adrian

A PENGUIN PEERS UP at a seaman of the Kieta Dan, back-ground, which carried a 15-ton expedition to Antarctica to establish Australia's first permanent scientific research base on the Antarctic continent. —Photo courtesy of The Virgin Republic-Adrian

NACHTMARE home site of the Red Deer Valley Coal Company, through the years has been the base for some of the finest baseball teams ever produced in Alberta. Success, which has continued through the years, started with the NacHTMARE many years ago when names such as Tom Lett were blazed across the sport pages. Picture above shows '43 Red Deer Valley Championship club following a public reception and banquet. —Courtesy of the Ironbridge Press

THE ARRIVAL OF IRON ORE from the Knob Lake region in Northern Quebec is a step closer following the shipment of the first of a fleet of huge ore-carrying trucks from Montreal to Seven Islands. The trucks, biggest road motive power in Canada, will each carry close to 40 tons of ore and will be used to ferry ore from the pits to the railroad. Weighing about 7½ tons fully loaded, the trucks have two rear axles, each axle being driven by a separate 100 h.p. diesel engine. When the body is raised for dumping the distance from the ground to the peak is 34 feet, a greater height than most two-story dwellings. —Photo courtesy of The Virgin Republic-Adrian

DUCK ROUP FOR FISHERMEN—It's anything but ducky for "quackers," river-going duck of Mid-Canada, Conn. It's fished into the bayouwater as an advance guard of the nation's fisherman "army" gone on spring "hunts" in the Salmon River, to open Connecticut's trout season. —Photo courtesy of The Virgin Republic-Adrian

IT'S A "GLIDER"—Thrills of soaring are combined with the low landing speed of a helicopter in this miniature aircraft designed by Peter H. Brown, of Raleigh, N.C. Made from material available at hardware and hardware stores, the 30-pound craft takes to the air when towed by an auto at a speed as low as 20 miles per hour. It glides or autorotates to the ground at seven miles per hour. —Photo courtesy of The Virgin Republic-Adrian

PARACHUTERS COLLIDE—Two paratroopers of the U.S. 82nd Airborne Division collide during a mass jump at Fort Bragg, N.C. The white parachute which can be seen opening is an emergency one which helped lower the two men safely. The third chute, lower parachute, also managed to untangle and land safely. —Photo courtesy of The Virgin Republic-Adrian

SHATTERING EXPERIENCE—Mrs. Marvin Reynolds, of Wichita, Kan., became an unwilling member of the "murder window club" as she discovers the rear window of the family car has shattered. Piled, exposed or shattered auto windows have been reported from coast to coast, and the unexplained damage has been variously attributed to radioactive dust, the work of vandals or airborne industrial-waste chemicals. —Photo courtesy of The Virgin Republic-Adrian

PRAYER FOR PREPARATION—Yan Nam Army Chief-of-Staff Gen. Nguyen Van Hinh, left, offers a ritual prayer on the "altar of Fatherland" during ceremonies marking the first anniversary of the Viet Nam Officers Academy, at Quang Tri, Indo-China. At right, cadets fire a salute, after taking an oath of fidelity to Bao Dai, emperor of their embattled country. —Photo courtesy of The Virgin Republic-Adrian

